Inquiry to decide fate of mall plan

BY ADAM LUKE

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

A PUBLIC inquiry has been called to decide the fate of pedestrianisation plans for Haverhill town centre.

The highly unusual move has been made by Suffolk County Council following years of objections and disagreements over how the town should be made more shopper-friendly.

The most recent plan, revealed last June, restricted weekday access from 10am until 4pm in High Street and Queen Street, and until 5pm in Quakers Lane.

It also proposed street closures allowing an additional market on Fridays.

However, it was met with strong objections from town centre businesses, as well as disabled groups in the area who argued that access would be difficult.

On Tuesday, Suzanne Buck, the county council's team leader for traffic management, attended a meeting with more than 20 town centre business owners at Menta, in Hollands Road, to explain the situation.

Mrs Buck said the public had been consulted on the latest plans and there were a number of strong objections.

She said: "What usually happens is that we address each objection and negotiate a solution. However, in this case unfortunately we cannot resolve all the issues."

Pupils are tops ... no debate!

SCHOOLCHILDREN in Haverhill talked their way to victory in a Suffolk-wide debating competition – arguing that violent video games should be banned.

Six pupils, aged 10 to 13, from Castle Hill Middle School in School Lane won the Key Stage 2 category at the finals in Beyton Middle School in Bury St Edmunds.

Ryan Thomas, Nibhuna Sabu, Callum Friel, Ryan Abbot, Jadrien Apiado and Jennifer Ge picked up the prize for their school, defeating eight other schools from across the county at the annual Rotary Club public speaking competition.

Jackie Betts, team leader for the older Key Stage 3 group, which came fourth in their category leaving the school second overall, said all the youngsters had done a fantastic job.

She said: "They spoke for five minutes and they really impressed. They wrote the scripts themselves and rehearsed beforehand. All the hard work really paid off."

"The standard of the competition was very high. It was an enriching and valuable experience for the children. They have been encouraged to have aspirations and compete at a high level."

The Key Stage 3 team had the task of arguing that women should have equality in the sporting world.

New crime crackdown

FOLLOWING last month's successful catalytic converter marking sessions in West Suffolk, a further session is taking place at Mitchell Motors, in Hollands Road, Haverhill, between 10am and 4pm next Tuesday.

Suffolk police are keen for van and 4x4 drivers to attend and have their vehicles protected from catalytic converter thieves by having them engraved or stamped with heat-resistant paint. Over recent months there have been a spate of thefts in Suffolk and police believe that a marked car part will deter thieves from stealing them.

Lost cat is feline lonely

A CAT is missing its owner in Haverhill. The young male animal was handed into the town's Cats Protection branch last week after being seen wandering in Chalkstone Way for around six weeks, and appearing to be very hungry.

The spotted grey tabby is described as about 6 to 12 months old, not neutered, with copper eyes, and not micro-chipped. He may be a pedigree or pedigree mix.

If you know this cat, contact Cats Protection on (01440) 730096.

Mexican hat clue after women attacked in alley

BY ADAM LUKE

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

A MAN in a distinctive Mexican hat is being hunted by police after attacking two teenage women in an alleyway at the end of a night out in Haverhill town centre last weekend.

Police are appealing for any information regarding the suspect and are hoping his unusual choice of headgear might lead them to his identity.

In the early hours of Saturday morning, the offender is said to have followed the complainants – aged 18 and 19 – up an alley leading off High Street, between Boots opticians and Barclay's Bank, before pulling their hair, pushing them and threatening them.

A spokeswoman for Suffolk Constabulary said: "They were walking through the High Street and turned up an alleyway when a man, who they had seen moments before walking along the High Street, approached from behind and pulled their hair.

"He pushed them against a wall and threatened them.

"One of the women was able to get free and run into the High Street, where she found friends.

"The man then walked off along the High Street with a second man. Neither of the women was hurt."

The offender was wearing a distinctive Mexican-style hat which had corks or balls hanging from the brim, as well as a black top and blue jeans. He is described as white, 5ft 2in to 6in tall, of medium to stocky build with stubble.

The incident took place between 2am and 2.20am. The second man is described as white, 6ft tall and was wearing a short-sleeved, grey top.

Police want to speak to this man and anyone else who was in the area early on Saturday morning, and who may have seen the women or offender before or after this incident.

If you have any information call DC Maria Allgood at West Suffolk CID on (01284) 774100 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

School's auction helps raise funds for vulnerable babies

A CHARITY auction held in a Haverhill school has raised £1,700 for the care of premature babies.

The event at Castle Manor Business and Enterprise College in Eastern Avenue saw 70 guests enjoy a three-course meal prepared by the college's catering teachers and Haverhill Tandoori – with students performing the roles of waiters and waitresses – before the bidding got under way.

All of the lots in the auction exceeded their reserve price, with some going for double what was expected.

The money raised went to the special care baby charity Bliss, which focuses on research, support and care for babies born too small, too soon and too sick, as well as the Interactive Life Doll Fund – a scheme in which students can take home and care for a computer programmed baby in order to highlight the responsibilities and implications of becoming a teenage mother.

Child development students at Castle Manor identified the need to raise awareness about the implications and responsibilities of teenage pregnancy, and have already raised money for the Interactive Life Doll fund through a sponsored walk, with more events planned throughout the year.

Madeleine Vigar, Castle Manor principal, attended the auction on March 5 and said: "This wonderful event, inspired and organised by students and staff, shows how important charity is to the partnership. Everyone involved deserves to be immensely proud of their achievement."

Organisers Julia Power and Matthew Gill would like to thank all businesses who supported the event.

Mum of six is sentenced for store card fiddle

A MOTHER of six, who used a childhood friend's name to set up a store card account which she failed to pay, has been sentenced to a 12-month community order and forced to pay £288.45 compensation.

Lisa Wallace, of Nottley Drive, Haverhill, used her former friend's name to order products from the Next directory during June 2009.

The 35-year-old was sentenced at Bury St Edmunds Magistrates' Court on Tuesday.

Wallace had eight previous convictions for a total of 33 offences, including 19 of fraud and nine of theft.

Her community order involves her being placed under supervision by the probation service during the period.

When Wallace set up her Next account she gave the name and date of birth of a woman she had known as a child, but lost contact with.

She ordered goods valued at almost £300, but did not pay for any of them.

The debt was passed on to a company who contacted the woman whose name was used. She recognised Wallace's address and the police were informed.

Some of the clothes ordered were found at Wallace's home.

Web puts parents in classroom

A PRIMARY school in Haverhill is helping to shape the ways parents engage with their children's education in the future.

Clements Community Primary School in Clarendon Road is one of a select few "exemplar schools" around the country which is using a web-based programme called Classroom Monitor, to raise the level of parental involvement in learning.

It is hoped the programme will raise standards.

The parental access portal allows parents to log on and follow the progress of their child, viewing reports and pieces of work.

It has built upon Classroom Monitor's previous success in more than 1,500 schools as a resource which allowed teachers to quickly and easily record how pupils are doing in line with the national curriculum and Government criteria.

Lesley Farrow, headteacher at Clements, said: "We have been using Classroom Monitor's parental access portal since January and think it is a very powerful tool to help parents become more familiar with what their children are achieving.

"As many families have a computer at home, the portal provides an easy way for them to keep up-to-date with their child's school work.

"This is particularly important for our typically hard-to-reach parents who may feel anxious about coming in to the school."

University bid by developer

A PROPERTY developer told local business owners this week that he hopes to turn Haverhill into a university town.

Nic Rumsey, director of Carisbrooke Investments, was unveiling an updated master plan for the Research Park in Hanchet End, which he hopes will allow Haverhill to compete with its illustrious rival Cambridge one day.

A number of residents objected to Mr Rumsey's original proposal for the site he now owns – bordering the A1017 and A1307 roads at the north of the town – mainly due to the residential element which bordered existing properties.

However, the new plan includ-

Groups join forces in tree planting scheme

GREEN fingers were at work in a town park as new trees were planted in a partnership between Haverhill in Bloom and the Woodland Trust.

More than 100 rowan, hazel, oak, beech, hawthorn and mountain ash trees were placed on the edge of Motts Field in Haverhill's East Town Park by park rangers and volunteers.

The Woodland Trust has begun a nationwide campaign to plant trees in March and members of Haverhill in Bloom said they were delighted to be able to get involved.

Valerie Morton, the voluntary group's treasurer, said: "Let's hope this planting is the start of something good. We have already planted daffodils and crocuses around the town and this year Haverhill should be very attractive.

"We work with schools and businesses to develop projects across the town, such as at St Mary's Church and with the hanging baskets in the town all year round. We want to beautify the area and the town itself."

Town mayor Elaine McManus was also present at the tree planting.

She said: "What a wonderful project this is to help the appearance of the town. I would encourage people to get involved and volunteer."

Mrs Morton added her thanks to the Woodland Trust and to East Town Park and its staff.

Haverhill in Bloom will hold a gardener's market and car boot sale at the town's recreation field on May 15, with all profits going to further planting and activities in the Haverhill area.

The group's AGM will be held on April 5 at the borough council offices in Lower Slade at 6pm. To get involved call (01440) 709099 or visit www.haverhillinbloom.org.uk.

Public inquiry for mall plans

"It is very unusual that a traffic regulation order has to be settled with a public inquiry. It is the first time I have ever known it in my entire career. It is normally done through negotiation but it is clearly a very emotive issue and this hasn't been possible."

A team of impartial inspectors will visit the town in September and spend four to six weeks dissecting the plans and listening to objections, before making their decision.

Mrs Buck said: "Whatever decision they come to, no matter what anyone else thinks, will be final.

"All objections will be considered equally – it will not be those who shout the loudest but the detail of the objection."

It was also revealed that although the Queen Street and High Street traffic proposals are separate, they will be dealt with together during the inquiry. If the High Street proposals are rejected the council can then reintroduce suggestions for Queen Street.

Those attending the meeting, including Cllr Anne Gower, also heard that police in Haverhill are planning a clampdown period on people parking illegally in the city centre, and that £750,000 of the Area Growth Fund has been ear-marked for enhancing the environment in High Street.

Consultation with residents and businesses will begin shortly, with the aim of starting work in February next year.

es a greater buffer zone between the current housing and future development, and received a warm reception from town centre shop owners at a meeting on Tuesday at Menta in Hollands Road.

Mr Rumsey said he wanted the site, if accepted, to help Haverhill evolve into a research hub.

He said: "The plan is to set up a business school or university faculty on the site to make Haverhill into a university town and attract companies into the area.

"I have been talking with Anglia Ruskin and University Campus Suffolk to try to get them to ally with Haverhill and get them on the site.

"We need this research park to be at least as good as Cambridge's and then we hope to beat them in the price we can offer."

The masterplan is set to go before St Edmundsbury Borough Council on April 5. If approved, it will be developed into an outline planning application in early summer.

Some objectors to the new development were concerned about the residential properties which are part of the plan, but Mr Rumsey tried to allay any such fears.

He said: "The research park is my principle focus – the residential aspect is simply an engine to set it up there."

Firm friends still going strong, 50 years on ...

Keeping in touch has never been a problem for four Cambridgeshire couples who met once more in Haverhill this week.

Anne and John Prior, Alf and Ann Fletcher, Roy and Phil Sayers, and Aubrey and Anita Butler have all been happily married for 50 years or more and have kept in regular contact since they were teenagers.

They have a combined total of 10 children, 14 grandchildren, two great-grandchildren, and 203 years of happy marriage.

Former laboratory assistant Anne and her husband John, both 73, recently celebrated their 51st wedding anniversary. They hosted the most recent reunion at their home in Victoria Road, Haverhill, on Tuesday.

Anne said: "We usually meet three or four times a year. We all celebrated together for our 50th anniversaries and get together for birthdays, too."

"This time we just had a coffee and then headed to the pub for lunch. We have a good laugh and a chat. We talk about the families and just get on really well – better and better as we get older.

"We used to all live in Cambridge but just because we moved away doesn't mean we have lost contact. We have been friends for such a long time. We have come from the same area and have a similar background."

The four husbands were close friends from a young age, working together at Pye Telecommunications in Newmarket Road, Cambridge, while their future partners developed their friendships from their childhood, when Anita and Anne went to the same school, with Phil and Ann attended another nearby.

Alf, 78, and Ann, 71, were married half a century ago, and now live in Stanesfield Road, Cambridge, while Roy and Phil, who are 73 and 72 respectively and have enjoyed a 50-year bond, live close by in Derby Road. Similar to Anne and John, 71-year-old Anita and 74-year-old Aubrey moved away from Cambridge, to Greenbanks, Melbourn, celebrating their golden wedding in 2010.

Anne added: "I think we are a bit special because of the fact that we have all remained friends for so long, and then you add in the length of our marriages."

"For a marriage to work, I think it about respecting each other, being tolerant and understanding each other's needs."

Focus falls on Games strategy

BUSINESSES, schools, sports clubs and community groups in Haverhill have been invited to attend a workshop on how they can make the most of the London 2012 Olympic and Paralympic Games.

The Are You Ready for 2012? event takes place on Monday, March 21 at Haverhill Leisure Centre and will outline the opportunities available to local people, as well as showcasing sports stars from the region hoping to compete in the Games.

Adam Baker, Suffolk County Council's 2012 project manager and member of the local Olympic Steering Group, will host the workshop.

He said: "Organisations need to start planning now if they, and Suffolk, are to make the most of this once in a lifetime opportunity."

To book a free place on the workshop, which starts at 5pm, contact the leisure centre on (01440) 702548.

Poppy record stuns Legion

RECORD sums were raised in Haverhill during last year's Poppy Appeal for the British Legion.

The generosity of the local community resulted in a magnificent £14,662.85 being raised in 2010 – a jump of nearly £5,000 from the previous year.

Brian Thomas, Poppy Appeal organiser in the town, told the Weekly News that he and his committee were "ecstatic".

He said: "It is an absolutely marvellous amount of money. We have never, never collected as much as this before."

"Every year the total has been going up and up, but this is a huge jump – in 2009 we had £10,044.96."

"I have lived in the area for some time and I have to say that the people of Haverhill have always been extremely generous, especially at Poppy time. Even teenagers and children put their hands in their pockets and gave to the appeal."

Mr Thomas said that he was not sure why this year in particular had seen such a rise in donations.

"Maybe it is because our boys and girls are still in Afghanistan and it is so difficult for them."

"I'd just like to say a big thanks to the people of Haverhill for their kindness and for helping to raise this amazing amount of money, especially at the moment when money can be tight."

Mr Thomas added his thanks to the shops that collected money, including Tesco, Sainsbury's, local petrol stations and newsagents. He also thanked those who sold poppies on the street and the Navy Association in Haverhill.

Adrienne Wakeling, British Legion county manager for Suffolk, said: "We are grateful that the public recognise the continuing need for money that goes to both serving servicemen and the retired."

"The Legion is celebrating its 90th anniversary this year and needs resources to help people for another 90 years."

Firecrews battle factory inferno

FLAMES ripped through a Haverhill factory, causing part of the building to collapse and raising health fears for families living nearby.

Homeowners in the vicinity of Haverhill Mould and Tooling were urged to keep their windows and doors shut while firefighters battled the inferno, which started shortly after 12.30pm on Saturday.

Half of the semi-detached tool making unit in Boundary Road – which contained building plastic and kerosene – was completely engulfed by the blaze.

The heart of the fire appeared to be a storage area on a mezzanine floor in the factory, which measured approximately 65ft by 65ft.

Eight pumps tackled the flames, eventually extinguishing the blaze by 3.30pm. Crews attended the scene from stations in Haverhill, Clare, Withersfield and Linton, as well as Ipswich.

The events at Haverhill Mould and Tooling, which provides an injection moulding and tooling service, were witnessed by Adrian Burge, managing director of bespoke furniture firm Office Problems Solved, based in nearby Falconer Road.

He said: "All we could see from this side was a lot of flames and a lot of smoke. The smoke was pretty black, horrible and hugely acrid because they have got plastics in the works.

BY CHRIS HAVERGAL and ADAM LUKE

Email: editorial@elyweeklynews.co.uk

"We could see the roof was all damaged and it sounds like there has been a collapse."

Mr Burge added: "The environmental people and the fire brigade came down and ushered away anyone who was watching, because of the smoke."

A spokesman for Suffolk fire and rescue service said the building had "partially collapsed" and that jets had surrounded the building to fight the flames in an effort to protect surrounding buildings.

Due to kerosene and other chemical agents being used within the factory, Anglian Water was called to the site once the fire was under control to see if the water course and drains were contaminated.

The Environment Agency and council environmental health experts also attended due to the large smoke plume and water runoff, and electricity suppliers were alerted. These measures were said to be precautionary and the area was declared safe later that day.

After the blaze was extinguished firefighters stayed on the scene to dampen down.

Police were forced to close roads in the surrounding area and have confirmed they are not treating the fire as suspicious.

Questionnaire appalled me

Sir, I am writing with reference to the article 'Parents in plea over school bus' (Weekly News, March 10). My daughter, who lives in Haverhill, has been attending Hillside special school in Sudbury since she was 4. She is now 12 and is provided with a personal assistant, and travels to school in a taxi. She used to share a minibus with other children and an escort, but about six years ago the driver and escort felt it was unwise for her to continue to use this service any longer for health and safety reasons. She falls in the category of severely mentally impaired and can be a danger to herself and others, requiring one-to-one support at all times. When I received the questionnaire and proposal form from Suffolk County Council suggesting that there may be changes to the transport system for children like my daughter, I was shocked and appalled that these ideas had even been suggested. If her transport was to be withdrawn I would not be able to get her to school (financially or physically) and would have to look at what other residential care packages were available. This would cost the tax payer considerably more than the amount to run the transport which is essential to us. I have filled out my questionnaire and returned it, and I would urge other parents in my position to do the same. I feel if no one gives any feedback, then the county council will think the service is not required. The pressure of bringing up a severely disabled child is enough for any parent without dealing with cutbacks that should not even be considered.

Last week's Memories photograph, from our archives, led Val Swaby to write: "The Memories photograph in the March 10 issue was taken at the toy library, which was held at the old library in a portable building. This was situated on the now Lower Downs car park. It then moved to the Corn Exchange. "The photo was taken in about October 1986 and I recognise myself and my son Matthew." Spot on, Val! Our photo was indeed taken in October 1986.

Tenants' wishes must be upheld

Sir, Like the majority of tenants of South Cambs District Council, I was dismayed to read that yet again the ruling Tories are incapable of accepting the democratically expressed wish of their tenants, who overwhelmingly rejected their shortsighted policy of privatising their housing stock.

It would appear Cllr Manning is suffering some sort of Gaddafi-esque delusion in thinking he has the backing of tenants in this. Not content with wasting £1.25 million trying to persuade tenants to sign away their rights, he now seems prepared to waste even more taxpayers' money. How many public services facing closure could this money have saved?

As for Cllr Manning's "inescapable" logic, where is the logic in giving away valuable public assets to private organisations at rock-bottom prices? Where is the logic in giving away their rights to a housing association, many of whom were teetering on the brink of financial disaster in the recent banking crisis?

Where is the logic in transferring our homes to organisations facing massive cuts to their Government funding, so much so that the majority of housing associations are making staff redundant, closing sheltered and supported housing schemes and are having to charge new tenants rents way above the level the majority of those reliant on social housing can afford?

Cllr Manning may try to claim that tenants have requested this but the self-styled Tenants' Participation Group (TPG) are completely unrepresentative of the vast majority of tenants. In fact, only a handful of tenants actually participate in this undemocratic and unelected group. It really is time the council supported tenants' long-held wish for properly elected representatives and disbanded the discredited TPG.

Cllr Manning must learn that in a democracy you accept the result – even if it isn't the one you want.

Rapist jailed for attacks on teen

BY JACK GROVE

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

A COMPUTER engineer has been jailed for 17 years for repeatedly raping a school-girl.

Jason Cutts, 43, had denied the allegation but was last month found guilty by a jury at Ipswich Crown Court.

Cutts, of Birdwood Road, Cambridge, also introduced the 14-year-old, from Haverhill, to business partner Phillip Skinner, 60, who also raped her.

The court heard that Cutts and Skinner had each watched as the other had sex with the girl on a sofa. She became pregnant.

Judge John Devaux imposed an extended sentence on Cutts totalling 27 years, with 17 years to be served in prison. Cutts was also ordered to be placed on the Sexual Offenders Register indefinitely.

A laptop computer seized by police from Cutts and found to contain child pornography will be destroyed.

Judge Devaux told Cutts a lengthy prison term was the only appropriate sentence because of the "extremely serious" nature of the offences.

Cutts was convicted of six offences of rape, two of indecent assault, 13 of making indecent images of children, one of possessing an indecent image of a child and one of distributing an indecent image of a child.

The offences took place between March 2001 and November 2005, some of them in Haverhill.

Following the rapes by Cutts the girl, who is now 24, fell pregnant and he helped arrange for her to have a termination.

Giving evidence, Cutts claimed the girl's allegations were "just a fantasy" and said he had not been responsible for her becoming pregnant.

He also denied having put indecent images of children on his computer.

Cutts had run a computer business with Skinner from premises in Hollands Road, Haverhill, and with shops in Sudbury and Halstead.

Skinner, of Kitchen Hill, Bulmer, near Sudbury, was also found guilty of an offence of raping the same girl between December 2005 and November 2006. He had already pleaded guilty to possession of indecent images of children following the seizure of his laptop as part of the same investigation.

The prosecution alleged Skinner had offered Cutts cash payments in return for arranging sex with the girl.

Skinner, who has served a previous prison sentence for possession of child pornography, admitted that he was attracted to girls aged between 11 and 14 and enjoyed viewing indecent images of them but denied ever having sex with a girl of that age.

Judge Devaux adjourned sentencing of Skinner to allow for the preparation of reports by the probation service.

Charitable jewellers go for gold

ODD earrings and chains with broken clasps have helped a jewellers raise more than £18,000 for a hospice.

Now Griffith Jones in High Street, Haverhill, is renewing its call for hoarders to clear out their jewellery boxes and help it reach its £20,000 target.

The shop launched its effort two years ago and since then has received 235 donations of unwanted pieces of scrap gold, which have raised £18,557.01 for St Nicholas Hospice Care.

Partner Graham Shipp said he was delighted with how much had been raised so far, but encouraged people to continue hunting for items of scrap gold.

He said: "I have always supported the hospice through collection boxes and I thought this would be another good way to help the charity."

"We want this to carry on and raise even more money for the hospice. It doesn't matter how small the item is, it can still help."

"We are really hopeful that we can hit our £20,000 target very soon, and urge people to bring in their scrap gold and help us."

Mr Shipp hopes people will look in their old jewellery boxes and take any odd earrings, unwanted chains or broken clasps into the shop. They will then be valued, with all proceeds going to the hospice.

Abby Mayes, corporate fundraiser at St Nicholas, said: "We would really like to thank Griffith Jones for thinking of the hospice - we are thrilled with the success of this venture."

"We urge people to have a look for their scrap gold, as even small items could make a big difference and help Griffith Jones to hit that £20,000 target."

Pet shop joys for pooches

PRETTY pooches and handsome hounds turned out in their droves to have their portraits captured by a photographer in a Haverhill pet shop.

Pugs, Labradors, British bulldogs, Huskies, Alsatians and even Afghan hounds appeared at Petco, in the Charter House Trading Estate in Sturmer Road, in record numbers to have their picture taken while their proud owners looked on.

The event was run by The Dog Portrait Company, which has organised shoots at major pet stores across the UK for almost 20 years – but was in Haverhill for the first time on Saturday.

Elliot Martin, 37, owns Petco with his business partner John Dipple.

He said: "The photographer came in and took photographs of the dogs in a studio, free of charge."

"It was exceptionally busy. The photographer had 54 sittings to do – he normally does 25 on a good day. He couldn't take lunch as it was constant from 9.30am through to closing at 5pm.

"This was the first time The Dog Portrait Company had been here but we want it to be a yearly thing. We were very happy with the response."

The photos, which were taken for free, will be on display in the shop this Saturday and can be ordered from then. There are also prizes for the owner of the most photogenic dog, as chosen by a panel of judges.

Sex lie woman sent to prison

BY JULIAN MAKEY

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

A MUM-TO-BE who lied about being sexually assaulted by a taxi driver on her way from St Ives has been jailed.

Gemma Hasson, 25, now faces the prospect of being in prison when she has her first baby, due in May.

Hasson, a marketing analyst of Blacksmiths Lane, Shudy Camps, made the false claim in a "moment of madness" when she did not have enough money to pay the fare after being taken to an address near Huntingdon on March 27 last year, Peterborough Crown Court heard.

Judge Nic Mudge told Hasson: "You made a false complaint of a serious sexual assault against a taxi driver to avoid paying a fare."

"You alleged you were attacked in a taxi, that he pulled off your leggings and knickers and then chased you. That was false."

"Such false claims make it harder for the prosecuting authorities to secure convictions where genuine complaints of sexual assault are made."

"They increase the likelihood of guilty men going free and they are highly damaging to the criminal justice system."

"I am satisfied this offence is so serious I have no option but to impose an immediate custodial sentence."

Hasson admitted perverting the course of justice and was jailed for 12 months.

Hasson, who had been drinking, had claimed that she had been attacked by the taxi driver after a trip from St Ives and had fought him off with her shoe, but the court heard the driver had not suffered any injuries.

Claire Matthews, prosecuting, said the taxi driver had been on bail for 44 days after being arrested for the false assault.

She told the court that after being arrested, Hasson was asked about the truth of her claim: "She maintained from first to last this was a true complaint."

Mark Shelley, mitigating, said that although the offence was serious and must have been worrying for the taxi driver who was suspended from his job, police had very quickly doubted the truth of Hasson's claim and had told Huntingdonshire District Council, the taxi licensing authority, that he was not dangerous.

He said the offence was "completely inexplicable" other than it came after she had been drinking and had an argument.

Mr Shelley said: "Once she started making the allegations she found it very difficult to back out of them."

"It was a moment of madness. I think that genuinely applies here."

Easter fun is on the cards

FAMILIES are invited to two Easter events in Haverhill's East Town Park this April. On Wednesday, April 13, Motts Fields will host an Easter picnic from 11am to 3pm, with activities for children including sports, crafts and a bouncy castle. Entry is free but bring a picnic. Then on Thursday, April 21 an Easter Egg Hunt will start from the East Town Park visitor centre at 2pm. The event costs £1.50 per child. A chocolate egg is guaranteed for every child and there will be lots of special prizes.

Car damaged by chemicals

CHEMICALS were poured over a car parked in a Haverhill street last week, damaging the paintwork. The red Renault Megane in Eastern Avenue was vandalised with a corrosive liquid between 7.30pm on Wednesday and 9am on Thursday. Anyone with information relating to this incident can contact Sgt Sarah Bartley at the Haverhill Safer Neighbourhood Team on (01284) 774100 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

HAVERHILL CHAMBER OF COMMERCE BUSINESS AWARDS 2011

Anxious wait now begins for entrants

JUDGES cast a critical eye over the entries for this year's prestigious Haverhill Chamber of Commerce Business Awards – and were impressed with what they found.

Jan Cavelle, of the Jan Cavelle Furniture Company in Rookwood Way, Jenny Chapman, business editor at our sister paper the Cambridge News, and John Dugmore, chief executive of Suffolk Chamber of Commerce, convened for two days of deliberation.

The panel met at Haverhill's Days Inn in Phoenix Road to find winners for 11 categories, which included employee of the year, employer of the year, and large and small businesses of the year. Nominations for all categories closed last Friday.

Jenny said she was impressed with the strength and range of companies in Haverhill.

She said: "I am delighted to be judging the awards and am using it as an opportunity to get to know businesses in the town."

BY ADAM LUKE

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

"A lot of people really only link Haverhill with Genzyme and Jan's furniture company, but there is clearly so much more and I am sure these awards will highlight that."

Jan, who makes furniture for the top end of the interior design trade, said she was always happy to help enterprise projects, and John added that he was excited to be part of the award process.

He said: "It is clearly exciting that our Haverhill office branch of the county chamber is running these prestigious awards."

"This is a really dynamic and entrepreneurial town and we were delighted with the quality and quantity of the entrants. I am sure the award ceremony in May will be fun and enjoyable for all."

These awards showcase what is best about Haverhill."

Now that the judges have made their decision, competing businesses will have an anxious wait until May 14 for the results.

Chilford Hall in Balsham Road, Linton, will host a gala night, which will feature the presentations, as well as a three-course meal, wine and a live band and disco. Clare Young, from BBC1's Apprentice, will host the event and also present a further award for Haverhill's best young entrepreneur.

Tickets for the evening are on sale at Haverhill Chamber of Commerce's website at www.haverhillchamber.co.uk

For more information on the event and the awards, which are run in association with the Weekly News, call Kim Brown on (01473) 712330 or email kim@boleyn-events.com

Nominations for the export achievement award are open until April 28, but all other categories.

A spokeswoman for the awards said: "We have already had a large number of entrants which has been fantastic."

Runner's call for support

TIME is running out for a Haverhill man as he prepares to take on his first marathon next month.

Charles Hudson is gearing up for the London Marathon on April 17, running in support of St Nicholas Hospice Care – a West Suffolk charity which provides a special service for people with terminal and life shortening illnesses and their families.

The 32-year-old is aiming to raise at least £2,000 for the hospice, and is looking forward to the challenge.

He said: "Running the London Marathon was a personal goal – something to cross off the list of things to do – and obviously for a worthy charity as well. The hospice does such good work and has helped people I know. The training has not been too bad. I had a setback over Christmas when a tendon injury, flu and snow meant I couldn't run, but everything is back on track.

Cash target: Charles Hudson hopes to raise at least £2,000

"I just want to get round and finish the route. If I can do it in less than five hours, that would be brilliant."

Charles's fundraising was boosted by a quiz at Haverhill Golf Club on February 26, which raised £800.

The event was attended by more than 80 people and was hosted by quizmaster and hospice community fundraiser, Ian Norris.

Ian said: "Charles is not far off hitting his target so I urge people to sponsor him. The hospice will be grateful for every single penny he raises."

St Nicholas Hospice Care is a registered charity and has to raise £10,000 every day through the generosity of the local community. To sponsor Charles, visit www.justgiving.com/charles-hudson

Prison gaff saw inmate go free

A PRISON inmate was allowed to walk out of the gates after a bungle by staff, a court heard.

James Whitlock, 25, was serving a 33-month sentence for theft at Edmunds Hill prison, near Haverhill, when he walked out unchallenged and was free for nearly six months before he was caught.

Ipswich Crown Court heard that Whitlock walked about a mile from the prison to a nearby business, where he phoned his then girlfriend to come and pick him up.

He watched football on television while waiting for her to come from Essex.

Single mother Tracey Poulton, 26, of Cawbeck Road, Little Canfield, Essex, admitted assisting a prisoner as she was about to go on trial, having previously denied the charge.

She was released on bail to return to court today for sentencing.

BY JOHN GOODE

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

Prosecutor Stephen Rose said Whitlock had "accidentally" been allowed out of prison. He waited 45 minutes at trade premises near the prison for Poulton to pick him up and take him to Walthamstow, in East London.

Mr Rose said it appeared that Poulton had not been involved in any pre-arranging escape attempt.

The incident happened on June 14 last year and Whitlock was arrested in the West Midlands on December 8.

Elroy Claxton, in mitigation, said that Whitlock gaining his freedom as a result of a mistake at the prison underlined that there had been no escape plan involving Poulton.

He said Poulton, who has a 7-year-old daughter, now wanted nothing to do with Whitlock.

Pastures new for agency boss

THE chief executive of a West Suffolk business support agency has announced his retirement.

John Riley will leave his post at the Mid Anglian Enterprise Agency (Menta) on March 31 to pursue other interests.

The organisation – which has an office in Holland Road, Haverhill – helps clients start, and grow, their own businesses, improve performance and encourages them to realise their potential through a mix of one-to-one advice, business skills workshops and networking opportunities.

Mr Riley said "It has been an interesting and enjoyable four years at Menta, and during this time the profile and work of the organisation has increased throughout, not only in Suffolk but across the whole eastern Region.

"I have worked closely with a superb team and I wish them all the best for the future."

Over the last 12 months, Menta has helped 889 individuals with business advice and helped set up 207 new businesses.

Jane Vincent, Menta chairwoman, said: "We all thank John for his hard work and efforts over the last four years."

Crime spree: Alfie Smith, who was last known to live in Barnardiston, is being sought in connection with a series of burglaries and thefts.

Plea over 'wanted' man

POLICE have renewed an appeal for help in tracing a man described as the "most wanted" in Suffolk.

Alfie Smith, 31, whose last known address was in Barnardiston, is being sought in connection with an investigation into a series of burglaries and thefts.

Police in Suffolk and Essex want to question him about offences in the two counties.

He is suspected of conspiracy to commit burglaries and money laundering offences committed in the St Edmundsbury district, which includes Haverhill, and the neighbouring Babergh and Mid Suffolk districts.

Police are investigating a series of 70 thefts from residential sheds and garages, farm outbuildings, businesses and cash machines.

Stolen or cloned vehicles were used during the offences and items stolen range from power tools and high-specification landscaping machinery to cash and cigarettes.

Smith, who is also subject to recall to prison to complete a sentence, is described as white, approximately 5ft 9in tall, of large build with short brown hair.

He has a number of scars on his face and tattoos on both arms. He is known to have contacts across the country.

Anyone with information should call Suffolk police on (01473) 613500 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555111.

Police plea as vandals target cars

A SECOND spate of criminal damage to cars in Haverhill has sparked a warning from police.

Four vehicles had their tyres slashed in Knights Court and The Causeway last Tuesday between 6.30pm and 11.35pm.

The previous incident occurred between Friday, March 4 and last Monday in St Boltophs Way, where wing mirrors were smashed.

The suspects are thought to be teenage boys and girls returning from a night out in the town. Officers conducted an initial search of the area and are currently involved in house-to-house enquiries.

IT TAKES TWO: Spiers and Boden are being hailed as musicians at the forefront of the new folk revival.

New slant on an old tradition

SPIERS and Boden, the duo at the forefront of the recent folk revival (which has seen the popularity of groups like Mumford and Sons soar) come to Haverhill Arts Centre for a big night of showmanship, stories, humour and raw, stomping energy next month.

John Spiers (melodeon, concertina) and Jon Boden (vocals, fiddle, guitar, stomping-box, BBC2 Folk Awards Singer of the Year) have been consistently wowing audiences with their blend of traditional English folk with a contemporary twist.

Loud, proud, and with just a few acoustic instruments, they present traditional stories and music which are as much at home on the stage of Cambridge Folk Festival as they are in the pub.

They made their name as joint founders of Bellowhead; regularly collaborate with Eliza Carthy under the name of Eliza Carthy and The Ratcatchers; and are widely considered to be at the cutting edge of the new folk revival.

The Guardian said recently: "In just a few years, they have established themselves as the finest instrumental duo on the traditional scene, and the contemporary equivalent of Martin Carthy and Dave Swarbrick."

Comedy that flutters by, with Latin moves . . .

Young actors off to Oz and Neverland

BY JENNIFER SHELTON

TO CELEBRATE their 21st anniversary, 63 performers from the Young Actors' Company will be putting on three exciting new productions for young audiences at the Mumford Theatre in Cambridge.

Tonight and on Saturday at 7.30pm, enjoy A Darker Side of the Rainbow, a new adaptation of The Wizard of Oz by M J McMahn. The company's upper stage academy will tackle this challenging new production that takes audiences deeper into the land of Oz.

On the programme for tomorrow is Peter Pan by J M Barrie, the tale of the boy who never grew up, his band of Lost Boys and the notorious Captain Hook. Join Wendy, John and Michael as they enter Pan's wondrous world, performed by the junior stage academy. It also starts at 7.30pm.

There's also a chance to see Those Legs by Noel Clarke on Saturday at 3pm. Actors of the senior stage academy will be performing Clarke's new play as part of National Theatre Connections before transferring to the regional festival in Norwich.

Georgia, Aaron and Leon have

been friends since childhood. Now they're young adults, in their first jobs, and sharing a house in the city with newcomer Lana. It's been two years since the accident in which Georgia lost the use of her legs, and she's doing her best to adjust but her boyfriend and friends find the change testing. This intense, psychological drama presents the precarious nature of friendship and young love in startling close-up.

During rehearsals for Those Legs, the senior stage academy were visited by wheelchair-user and actor David Proud (EastEnders, Desperados, Secret Diary of a Call Girl) who came to talk to the actors and run a workshop in preparation for their production.

"It was so useful and inspiring," said one cast member. "David is incredible at what he does. Completely open and honest. I cannot begin to explain how great it was that he came to work with us."

■ A Darker Side of the Rainbow and other plays, Mumford Theatre, Cambridge, today until Saturday, 7.30pm (except Those Legs, at 3pm Saturday). Tickets are £9 (£7 concessions).

David's flying folk . . .

HIGHLY-acclaimed songwriter David Rotheray will be showcasing material from his "modern folk concept album", The Life Of Birds, next week which, he says, gives only the tiniest nod in the direction of the David Attenborough TV series.

The album is billed as Rotheray's first solo effort, although it in fact draws on the vocals of 10 different singer/songwriters from the contemporary scene, including Kathryn Williams, Eliza Carthy and Nat Johnson.

Yorkshireman Rotheray is best known for his work with The Beautiful South, who produced 10 albums including hits such as Carry On Up The Charts until their split in 2007.

Expect a night of intriguing collisions between Nashville and Whitby, with Rotheray's country instincts blending with the generally more folksy leanings of his collaborators.

Special guest Eleanor McEvoy will also perform.

■ David Rotheray, The Junction, Cambridge, Monday at 8pm. Tickets are £10 in advance. Contact The Junction (01223) 511511 / www.junction.co.uk

The big film

FAIR GAME

certificate 12A 107m

IN July 2003, former UN weapons inspector Dr David Kelly died after a high-profile appearance before the Foreign Affairs Select Committee to answer questions about the so-called "dodgy dossier" of evidence about weapons of mass destruction.

On the other side of the Atlantic at the time, CIA operations officer Valerie Plame was caught in the eye of a media storm after her own government had seemingly blown her cover to discredit her husband, who had been highly critical of the Bush administration.

She became a focal point for the anger and confusion of a nation struggling to understand the decision to invade Iraq based on apparently flawed intelligence data.

Plame endured trial by media and her husband, former ambassador Joseph Wilson, chronicled their ordeal in his 2004 book, The Politics of Truth: Inside the Lies That Led to War and Betrayed My Wife's CIA Identity: A Diplomat's Memoir.

She followed suit three years later with her versions of events, Fair Game: My Life as a Spy, My Betrayal by the White House. Doug Liman, director of The Bourne Identity and Mr & Mrs Smith, relives the fraught period in this dialogue-heavy thriller adapted from the couple's memoirs. In the film, Valerie (Naomi Watts), whose CIA status is unknown to almost her entire circle of family and friends, is caught in the crossfire when her husband Joe (Sean Penn) writes a scathing opinion piece for The New York Times.

A subsequent article in The Washington Post exposes Valerie and she is shunned by colleagues, including Jack McAllister (Michael Kelly), who need to protect their own identities.

Fair Game is a gripping snapshot of the events leading up to the war in Iraq and the subsequent fallout for Valerie, Joe and their family.

The script tries to avoid taking sides, despite the source material, by providing a clear and concise timeline of events in the corridors of power as the possibility of war becomes a sickening reality.

The knot in our stomach tightens with each passing frame as Valerie and Joe witness events spiralling out of control before them, and the terrible price they must pay for daring to lift the veil of secrecy and lies.

Watts and Penn deliver riveting, impassioned performances, laying bare the rage and disappointment that slowly threatens to tear their marriage apart at a time when they most need to mount a united front.

The Royal seal of approval

If you're a regular shopper at garden centres and nurseries, the chances are that at some point you'll have bought a plant which has received the RHS Award of Garden Merit (AGM).

Most people see this as a sign that it's a reliable, above average specimen which will perform well in the right conditions. But plants have to go through a rigorous process before the coveted logo can be added to the label.

Only around 34 new plants are trialled each year and it can take three years plus before the AGM is awarded, and more for trees or slow-growing plants.

Since being first introduced in 1922, more than 7,000 plants have received the Award of Garden Merit. New plants are trialled at one of the RHS gardens or at a selected nursery or specialist grower.

by Hannah Stephenson

A panel of committee experts then meets to discuss and assess the merits of the plants, with input from plant heritage experts and National Collection holders.

"There are five criteria, which are looked at as a group and not individually," Jim Gardiner, RHS director of horticulture, explains.

"The first one is excellence for ordinary use in appropriate conditions. The next is that the plant is available in the trade at some level."

This means that a widely grown, popular plant, for instance Lavandula hidcote, would have to be widely available from retailers nationwide to qualify, while a less popular plant, such as a trillium, should be available from appropriate outlets or specialists who grow that type of woodland garden plant.

The other criteria are that the plant must be "of good constitution", which means it is known to be healthy, and "essentially stable in form and colour", performing to its description.

So, if for example you were buying a variegated plant, it's not going to revert, says Gardiner.

It's also got to be reasonably resistant to pests and diseases.

"For instance, there are some herbaceous plants that succumb to mildew when put under stress. What we are saying is that if it gets mildew very quickly, it won't be given the Award of Garden Merit."

Climate will inevitably have some bearing on a plant's performance. Some plants will do better in warmer regions in the south than in cooler northern areas.

This is again something the RHS is hoping to tackle when it hosts the world's first international trials conference at RHS Garden Wisley, in Surrey, in July.

"As part of our international trials conference, we'll be having a debate about hardiness ratings, linked to the Award of Garden Merit," says Gardiner.

This may mean that in future people will be able to more easily understand what ratings their plants fall under at the point of sale. At present, it's not compulsory to include hardiness ratings on plant labels. Even when growers do include the information on the label, the current rating of one to four is not as clear as it should be, says Gardiner, and the RHS is hoping to extend the rating from one to seven.

"Responsible growers are putting the hardiness ratings on their labels. If it's not on the plant tag, it should be at the point of sale. It's in the growers' interest to make sure they put it on because inevitably the hardiness over the last few years has been tested to the limit."

This year the RHS is carrying out a 'sunset review' to ensure that the AGM list is up to date and that plants which have been superseded by better varieties or are no longer available are dropped from the list.

The new logos will be drip-fed into outlets through the year, gradually replacing the old ones.

Logos may change but the aim remains the same.

"When people go to nurseries or garden centres, if they look for the AGM logo they know there's been a huge amount of investment, not only in time but in knowledge and expertise, to know they'll be getting a first class garden plant," says Gardiner.

Saab dealership aims for award

... and has free service offer

STAFF at local car dealership Cambridge Saab are celebrating after being shortlisted for the Saab National Dealer of the Year Award.

Cambridge Saab is now one of only ten UK Saab dealerships in the running for the top prize, making them one of the best performing sites in the Saab Dealer Network.

James Howarth, dealer principal at Cambridge Saab, said: "We are delighted to have been shortlisted for Dealer of the Year. It is testament to the hard work that the team have put in during the last 12 months and we can't wait for the winners announcement. Now is a very exciting time to be working with the Saab brand and we can only promise to continue delivering to best possible customer care and service to motorists in Cambridge."

Saab dealers are assessed annually on a wide range of criteria, including sales performance, customer care and staff training and Cambridge Saab has achieved a high score in each criteria, as well as being recognised for excellent levels of customer sales service.

Cambridge Saab is a family-run business which has been associated with Saab since 1969. James and his team are proud to be representing Saab for over 40 years.

Just last week Saab celebrated the first anniversary of its independence and launched details of the new 9-3 range, which will feature refreshed exterior and interior styling and more powerful, fuel-efficient engines for the Saab 9-3 Saloon, Sport-Wagon, 9-3X and Convertible.

The new range is expected to arrive in Cambridge in April, with the greatly anticipated 9-5 SportWagon set to arrive in September.

■ Cambridge Saab is expecting its customers to snap up a fantastic three year free servicing plan.

The free of charge, three year plan, which is worth up to an amazing £1,000 is available on new Saab models ordered and registered before March 31, giving customers the chance to drive away a fantastic vehicle without the annual cost associated with the service.

For more information on the Saab range and accompanying offers visit 59-61 High Street, Harston CB22 7PZ, telephone (01223) 873660 or go to www.cambridgesaab.co.uk.

Poll shows BMW 3 Series is most searched-for used car

WITH the March plate change upon us, Exchange and Mart and valuations partner CAP, are urging used car buyers to consider the desirability and residual value of their next purchase.

For the second year in a row, the BMW 3 Series takes the crown as the most searched for used car on ExchangeandMart.co.uk, with perennial favourites the Volkswagen Golf and the Ford Focus coming in second and third. Four out of the 2010 top 10 vehicles are family cars, ranging from the affordable to the aspirational, and all offer a sound investment for those ready for a change.

Mark Bulmer from CAP, the used car pricing experts says, "It's no surprise that the BMW 3 Series is the most popular vehicle enquiry on ExchangeandMart.co.uk. This range of cars has dominated the affordable aspirational badge league for years and has evolved gradually, rather than being reinvented regularly, like other cars. It's a quality lead-in car to a quality brand.

"Similarly, the VW Golf has evolved gradually, but has also consistently represented a benchmark to which all similar models aspire. It is stylish, strong, reliable and essentially classless, earning it second place.

"In third place, we have the first entry from the family cars in the shape of the Ford Focus, which is a car that does absolutely everything right. Faultless value for money, strong image, great reliability and once you reach the 12-month-old mark, there is nothing to really beat it in terms of ownership costs."

The top five offers a cross-section of models, from the affordable family car, through to the aspirational, timeless and the mass market. However, it's family cars that really dominate the middle of the league. Starting with the Ford Focus in third, which is followed by the Ford Fiesta in fifth and the Audi A3 and Vauxhall Astra in sixth and seventh.

Bulmer adds: "The Ford Fiesta used to be the classic 'little runabout', but today's model is one of the most stylish and technologically sophisticated mass market cars on the road today. At the other end of the scale, the Audi A3 is the class-leading family sports car in a manageable Focus-size with legendary Audi fit and finish. This is a car that says you're doing well in life. Hitting the middle ground, the Vauxhall Astra is essentially timeless, having spanned four decades. This is a quality family car, representing great value, style and robustness."

Debra Healy, digital director for Exchange and Mart, says: "Our Top Ten is largely unchanged from 2009 to 2010, however the Ford Mondeo has slipped out of tenth and been replaced with the Peugeot 206, which sits in ninth. Many of the vehicles featured offer good value, whether it's a small family car or the bigger, prestige models."

Exchange and Mart's 2010 Top Ten Searched Cars:

1. BMW 3 Series.
2. Volkswagen Golf.
3. Ford Focus.
4. Audi A4.
5. Ford Fiesta.
6. Audi A3.
7. Vauxhall Astra.
8. Vauxhall Corsa.
9. Peugeot 206.
10. BMW 5 Series.

The Chevrolet Orlando: Epic Play-Doh construction.

New Chevrolet Orlando is a mould-breaker – so they made one from Play-Doh!

COMMUTERS – and traffic wardens – were surprised to see a life-size replica of a car made from 1.5 tonnes of Play-Doh parked up in a London street last week.

The hand-crafted sculpture was created by a team of eight model makers over a two-week period to mark the UK launch of the new Chevrolet Orlando family-friendly seven-seater car.

Research by the car company provided the inspiration for the world's biggest Play-Doh sculpture – 4.6 by 1.8 metres – as the modelling compound topped a poll of the most-loved toy from yesteryear. More than 1,000 UK adults voted for their favourite nostalgic toy from their childhood with Play-Doh gaining a fifth (19 per cent) of the vote closely followed by Lego (17 per cent) and Kinder Egg (15 per cent).

TOP TEN BEST NOSTALGIC TOYS

Youth football

Plantation 2 Haverhill Rov 2 Cambridge & District Colts League, under-12C

COREY Slater snatched a late goal to give a reshuffled Rovers side a point from a clash against a strong side sitting one place above them in the division.

With two key players dropping out because of illness hours before kick-off, the reshaped side suffered another setback when falling behind to an own goal. However, a brilliant volley from Jayden Bayford levelled matters, and although the home side were ahead before the break, Rovers showed they were not out of it when Billy Jarvis hit the bar. Chances were spurned and it looked as if the visitors would be out of luck until Slater struck.

Buckden 0 Thurlow 4

Cambridge & District Colts League, under-14C

TAYLOR Warner struck twice in a comfortable victory. The recent signing showed he is revelling in his free role as Thurlow took command after the break. He opened the scoring after a goalless first half, and Callum Williamson quickly made it 2-0.

Warner's second was a penalty after Tom Miller was upended after a mazy run, and Williamson completed the scoring with a cool finish. Another new boy, Adam Slack, was man of the match.

Butler spot on to set up cup victory

Kedington 3 Pebmarsh 2

Treadfirst Halstead League Knockout Cup, semi-final

KEDINGTON earned their revenge on the Premier Division leaders by denying them the chance of a league and cup double. Although the hosts lost to the only goal of that game, the manner of the defeat gave few hints they would reverse the result.

However, their exit in the last four of the Challenge Cup the previous week focused Kedington's minds on the competition to keep their season alive. All the goals came in the second half, the best chance of the opening 45 minutes being Tom Rogers' shot which was scrambled off the Pebmarsh line. However, Kedington took the lead from the penalty spot early in the second half – Rob Butler converting after a handling offence – and Dan Knight made it 2-0 with a goal fashioned by Rogers. Pebmarsh reduced the arrears from the penalty spot, but Richard Riley atoned for the handling error which produced the penalty by scoring the third. From their last attack Pebmarsh scored a controversial second goal, but it was too late to deny Kedington a place in the final at Long Melford on May 6.

wasteful finishing prevented Castle Camps from making the most of their first-half domination. They were only a goal to the good at the break, James Austin firing in from six yards, and they did not add their second until after Morgan Jones hit the bar. Owen Thompson made it 2-0 and then hit the post just before Charlie Ellam added the third.

Witchford 1 West Wrattling 2 Cambridge & District Colts League, under-14B

WEST Wrattling were buzzing after their important 2-1 victory which strengthens their promotion claims.

A superb goal from man-of-the-match Mitchell Burr – slotting into the corner with the outside of his left foot – after a flowing move set them on their way. Earle Lambert added the second, pouncing after the keeper misjudged Burr's cross. But although both scorers also hit the woodwork, Wrattling had to survive a nervous end when Witchford pulled a goal back.

Burwell Tigers 0 Kedington 4 Cambridge & District Colts League, under-13C

KEDINGTON bounced back from the disappointment of the previous week to snap up the points. Although they took a while to break down Burwell's determined rearguard, they eventually made the breakthrough midway through the first half when winger Jamie Lingard smashed home.

The same player added the second before half time, side-footing home a move sparked by debut-making Lewis Head.

Two goals from George Mustoe, either side of important interventions by both keepers, wrapped up the points.

West Wrattling 8 Newmarket Tn 1 Cambridge & District Colts League, under-14B

ALTHOUGH West Wrattling were pegged back to 1-1, they eventually pulled away in the second half to score a comprehensive win.

Substitute Chris Elliot and man-of-the-match Rory Jebb both scored hat-tricks with further goals coming from Earle Lambert and Ryan Cooper.

OLIVER Stevenson struck twice as Withersfield scored a priceless win against their relegation rivals.

Aiden Course added the other goal.

Betts out to sink leaders

Felixstowe & Walton 0
Haverhill Rov 0

Ridgeons League, Premier Division
PETER Betts is calling for his Haverhill Rovers team to make up for a below-par week by taking something from their trip to leaders Leiston on Saturday.

Rovers followed up the weekend's 1-1 home draw against Histon reserves with a 0-0 stalemate at Felixstowe & Walton on Tuesday.

And Betts said: "Against Felixstowe, we didn't reach the standards we've set ourselves this season.

"We changed the system to 4-4-2 because we had players missing, but there was no end product. We didn't move the ball quickly enough. It highlights how important certain players are to the team.

"Before last weekend I would have been happy with four points from the two games. We've only taken two, which is disappointing and a bit frustrating.

"But we've got Leiston this weekend and anything we can get there will be a bonus and would make up for what we lost in the last two matches."

Against Felixstowe, Owen Paynter went close on two occasions.

The striker saw his 22nd-minute header tipped clear from danger by the goalkeeper, before he blasted over with 13 minutes remaining.

Jamie Challis (pictured) had a long-range strike saved and substitute Joe Harvey was also denied by the shot-stopper as Rovers pushed for a winner.

On Saturday, visitors Histon reserves ended a run of seven defeats thanks to Jack Sessions' late equaliser at the New Croft.

With first-teamers Daniel Sparkes, Jim Stevenson, Callum Stewart and Dee Okojie in the starting 11, the visitors started well and Andrew Tidswell had a goal ruled out for offside after Sparkes' shot had been saved.

Paynter put the hosts in front after a mistake from Histon keeper Jamie Chamberlain in the 35th minute, but the visitors continued to press forward in the second half.

They were awarded a corner two minutes from time and, although Ollie Verrall's header was blocked on the line, Sessions smashed home the loose ball.

Sail keeps calm to net medal win

MARY Sail clinched the midweek prize at Haverhill Golf Club's Ladies Medal with a nett score of 80, beating Jacqueline Condon on countback, with Geraldine Wheatley third.

However, Wheatley improved to win the Saturday competition with a score of 75, one ahead of Sail, with Lyn Fish a further two shots back.

Sally Price and Karen Wilby were edged out of their Daily Mail foursomes match at The Essex 1-up, despite coming back from three down after eight holes to draw level after 16. However, the Essex pair won the 17th and halved the last to seal victory.

Stephen Chandler was overall winner of the Men's Medal with nett 66, just edging out Andy Fish on countback. His handicap has been reduced by two shots to 24.

Mark Firman won the Midweek Medal with a fabulous nett 65.

Lyn Fish and Catie Heathfield scored 32pts to win the Ladies LGU Peugeot Coronation Foursomes and qualify for the regional final.

Second on 31 were lady captain Marian Mercer and Geraldine Wheatley, with Sally Price and Karen Wilby third on 30.

Lewis Whiting won the Junior Medal with 36pts and has reduced his handicap to nine. Second was James Higham with 33pts, with Liam Merritt on 32pts, ahead of Louis Martin and Alice Iron on countback.

The penultimate Winter Alliance Meeting of the season was played at Diss, where three Haverhill players figured in the running, with one point splitting the leading two pairs.

The first pair to finish were Trevor Broomfield and Mark Firman who returned 45pts thanks to three birdies being contributed by Firman.

But their efforts were thwarted by fellow club member Darragh Whelan and playing partner Kevin Earp, who finished on 46pts. Earp's individual four under par score of 66 ensured he took the day's Professional prize.

The final meeting will be staged at Haverhill on Thursday March 31.

Witham 29 Haverhill 47

Under-11

DESPITE brave tackling from debutant Tyler Bell, Witham were soon 14 points to the good as Haverhill looked shell-shocked and bewildered.

But Haverhill responded and good work in the breakdown by Oliver Cooper allowed Jack Sizer to weave through the defence and dive over.

This lifted Haverhill, who were now playing with confidence and belief. A good powerful run by Oliver Foley a few minutes later opened the way for Brandon McKay to run in for his first.

The first half was completed with a great surging run from McKay as he crossed for his second converted try.

half. Good defensive work from both Ewan Bellenger and Kit Browne forced turnover ball and Sizer finished well for his second.

A clever kick from McKay minutes later saw Max Walker run through and, with the forward pack now dominating in the rucks and mauls, Haverhill's backs could blast through the Witham defence time and time again. Another great solo effort from McKay rounded off his hat-trick and a further try late on completed the scoring.

■ With no under-seven opposition, players from Haverhill's youngest side had the chance to test themselves against a Witham under-eight team in two matches – and they won both.

Luke Wheeler, captain Hayden Lawrence, Ben Warren, Oliver Loveridge, Max Dearman and John Adams were among the scorers in a 45-25 win in the first match.

The second match was won 30-15, thanks to tries by Craig Martin-Gowing, Hayden Lawrence (2), Loveridge and Adams (2).

Witham 10 Haverhill 15

Under-10

THE home team went ahead early on, but great tackling by Jack Watson and William Atherton kept the visitors in it.

Dean Cleary and Elliot MacPhail drove the ball deep into the Witham half before Oliver Jury smashed his way over as the first half ended 5-5.

Adam Loveridge was rewarded for his hard work when he touched down early in the second half, putting the visitors into a well-deserved lead.

Haverhill were stung when Witham crossed to level the scores, but they refused to lie down and hit back with a superb try from Lea Cheeson to close out a well deserved victory.
